Independents Elect Foster As President

Assuming leadership of the Association of Independent Students, Ellis Foster defined organization policies in a recent interview and declared his intention to work for a stronger association during the next year.

Foster, sophomore in the College of Engineering and a member of SGA, was elected president of AIS to succeed Dene Southwood at a recent meeting.

"Association" Stressed
The first point Foster stressed is the fact that the Independents are an association rather than a political unit. It is a social unit as well as an active group, he declared.

There must be, however, an active body of officers to carry out the association's policies, and "I don't mean that there should be a clique or faction in control of the association," he said.

"Any action we will take as a party will spring from what action the Constitutionalists take in SGA work, and their work has been on party lines."

Not Against Greeks
Confining his remarks mostly to Independents' work with the Constitutionalists in SGA, Foster said that he was not necessarily against fraternities and sororities. They have a place on the campus, he added, they should not dominate SGA.

Foster said he believed that SGA has failed to inform the students of the purpose and value of SGA and of what it can do on the campus. He added that the Independents will be kept informed on SGA developments.

He pointed out that SGA should serve as a training ground for students in getting experience which they will need out of college.

Other Officers Elected
Other officers elected are Farnum Lewis, vice president; Joyce Barnett, secretary; and Charles Browning, treasurer.

Coeds 'Shocked' To Discover Two Men Living In Patt Hall

All boys must leave Patterson Hall freshman dorm for women, by 7:30 on week nights, says a ruling issued by the office of the Dean of Women. Since September 27 Bert Carlton and Hal Robinson have been two exceptions to this rule.

The only two male residents of Pat Hall, Hal and Bert share a room below decks and come and go as they please through their own private entrance.

Why?
Some bewildered Pat resident—female variety—might conceivably ask, "Why?"

Hal and Bert are the two geniuses behind the scenes who keep the cheeseburger assembly line going every night at Chat'N'Nibble, (God's gift to hungry coeds).

"There were an awful lot of girls—more than I'd ever seen before," Hal marvelled. Bert cut in, "It was interesting or the first two weeks. Then we got used to it."

Lucky?
What do their friends think of their rare good fortune? "They think we're lucky, but they don't know," Hal observed.

Their home in Pat isn't new to at least one freshman who stumbled on their room by mistake. One night during the first week of school, the two boys were peacefully studying when suddenly the door opened. A startled coed looked in, gulped, and vanished without a word. That's one of the reasons the living in a girl's dorm "makes you want to go out and forget," according to Hal.

Hal, a tall blond junior from Harrodsburg, is a commerce major. Bert, a red-head who leans toward the bar, (he's a law major), hails from Lawrenceburg. Both boys have better than a 2.0 standing.

With such an unusual opportunity to observe women, Hal and Bert should have definite ideas on the subject. Although as Hal says, "We're too sleepy by the time Chat'N'Nibble opens to see or care," they have formed a few opinions.

Bert's ideal girl is a brunette with green eyes. Hal prefers blue-eyed blondes. They agree that a girl should be "happily blended" with no extremes—moderately talkative, moderately intelligent, and moderately good looking.

Overstuffed
According to research done by Hal and Bert, girls don't eat too much—not at UK anyway.

Men's Dorm To Be Ready In January

Bowman Hall, new men's dormitory under construction at the corner of Rose Street and Washington Avenue, is scheduled to be ready for occupancy by the beginning of the winter quarter according to the present aim of the contractor, Chief Engineer E. B. Farris said this week.

A special effort is being made to complete the living space of the new residence hall which will accommodate 108 students Mr. Farris stated.

A recreation room and lounge, however, are not expected to be completed until a later date.

Rent To Be Higher
Dean of Men A. D. Kirwan said that rooms in the new dormitory will have a higher rental than those in the older residence halls. Freshmen will be given first opportunity to occupy the new building. Dr. Kirwan explained this restriction is in keeping with a ruling of the Board of Trustees which requires freshmen to live in the dormitories if conditions permit.

First Come, First Served
He added that regulations provide that the earliest applicants will be entitled to the spaces in the new building, which means present occupants of the dormitories will be given first consideration.

Names To Be Drawn
The regulations further provide that if the number of applicants exceeds the available space, the occupants will be selected by the process of drawing names. If the number of applicants is not sufficient to utilize all the space, students will be selected from the overflow of some 30 students now occupying spaces in the other dormitories. Remaining space will be filled by freshmen not living in the dormitories in the order of their applications.

Any vacant rooms after freshmen have had an opportunity to occupy the dormitory will be available to upperclassmen in the order of their applications, Dean Kirwan said.

Student Directory To Be Published Next Quarter

A directory of University's record number of more than 7,000 students is being published by the Student Government Association and approximately 7,500 copies will be ready for distribution next quarter.

It was announced this week Claude S. Sprows, SGA president.

The publication will include the names of all students, including those enrolled in the College of Pharmacy at Louisville, along with their home towns, college enrolled in, class, Lexington address and local telephone number. As an innovation this year, the directory also will list all members of the University faculty and administrative staff.

Pulitzer Prizewinner Addresses Assembly Of English Classes

Robert Penn Warren, winner of the 1947 Pulitzer prize for his best-selling novel, "All the King's Men," spoke to an assembly in the English department yesterday on "The Rime of the Ancient Mariner."

Mr. Warren's literary criticism of the meaningfulness of the two major themes in Coleridge's poem was recently published by Reynold and Hitchcock in a volume with the poem itself. Mr. Warren is now working on a new book concerned with Kentucky in the 1820's, he said.

Kentuckian Proofs Must Be Returned

All students who have received their proofs for Kentuckian pictures are urged by Kentuckian officials to send them back by the time allotted by the Studio.

It is important for each person to observe these requirements in order for the Kentuckian to come out on time, Kentuckian officials said.

Dinner Follows Ceremony
The ceremony was followed by a dinner in honor of the initiates.

Dr. T. W. Rainey, hte guest speaker discussed "Russia."

Dr. Frank L. McVey, president emeritus of the University and an honorary member of the society, and wives of the initiates were guests.

Dr. Webb To Study Pre-History Of State

Dr. William S. Webb, widely-known University physicist and archaeologist recently named "Distinguished Professor of the Year" by his faculty colleagues, will forsake the field of modern-day physics in conducting an original research project and delivering the traditional lecture stipulated by the professorship honor, it was announced yesterday.

The Distinguished Professorship committee disclosed that the nationally-recognized scientist has chosen to continue his studies in the fields of archaeology and anthropology and to report on "The Pre-history of Kentucky" in the annual Arts and Sciences lecture scheduled for April 8, 1948.

To facilitate the research on a project it is provided that the honored professor may make a three-months leave from teaching duties. However, Dr. Webb has unofficially declined the opportunity due to the pressure of departmental work and the lack of sufficient faculty to take over his teaching duties.

Tau Beta Pi Elects Hopkins President

Vernon Hopkins was elected president of the Kentucky Chapter of Tau Beta Pi at their last meeting. Other officers chosen were Guthrie Marks, vice president, Andy Clark, secretary, William Jenkins, treasurer, Othnell Alsop, corresponding secretary, and Bruce Elliott, cataloger.

19 Colleges Become Members Of NSA

Nineteen colleges have become members of the National Student Association, officials of the organization announced.

A move is underway on the campus to have the University become associated with NSA but no action has been taken on the question by SGA.

Schools which have joined NSA recently include the University of California, UCLA, University of Chicago, University of Michigan, University of Wisconsin, Carnegie Institute of Technology, New York University, New Jersey College for Women, Our Lady of Cincinnati College, Cincinnati, and Stanford University.

'Surf' For December Now On Campus

The December issue of Surf magazine is now on sale on the campus according to an announcement made this week by Don B. Towles, Kentucky editor of the southern intercollegiate magazine.

According to Towles, the December issue has pictures of some of Kentucky's athletes and Kentucky news in the news columns. A feature on Kentucky basketball will be the main story in the January issue.

Graduate Fellowships To Be Awarded 26

Twenty-six three year graduate fellowships will be awarded by the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board in 1947-48 to college seniors. Each fellowship pays full tuition and $750 per year and may be used in any field of study at any accredited graduate school.

Application blanks may be obtained from the Dean of the University.

Three Attend Meeting

Dr. Herman L. Donovan, president of the University, Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, and Athletic Director B. A. Shively are attending the annual meeting of the Southeastern Conference in Edgewater Park, Miss. The meeting ends Saturday.

Dr. Funkhouser, dean of the graduate school, is secretary of SEC.

Librarian Resigns

Mrs. Lysle Croft, has resigned as head of the circulation department of the University library. She will be succeeded by Miss Kate Irvine, assistant reference librarian.

Mrs. Croft has been with the library for over 20 years and has held her present position since the present library building was built.

HASKELL SHORT

Dr. Donovan Addresses Convocations

In an address on "A Miniature University," Dr. H. L. Donovan discussed the University's financial situation at separate convocations of the six colleges.

After explaining the results of the Griffenhagen survey, from which the subject of his speech was taken, Dr. Donovan declared that "someone needs to become alarmed" about present conditions.

Appropriations Compared
The University's budget request for $6,627,704 for 1948-49 and $6,743,108 for 1949-50 totals $13,370,812. The present budget appropriation is $2,967,675.

Comparing the state of Kentucky with other states, the president reviewed the appropriations of the Minnesota and North Carolina legislatures for their respective state universities.

After a comparison of these figures with Kentucky's proposed budget, Dr. Donovan asked, "Can anyone believe that our request is out of line with the needs of the University of Kentucky?"

"Education is an investment, not a charity," Dr. Donovan emphasized. "Money invested by a state in the education of its people returns handsome dividends. Educated people create wealth. Ignorant people consume wealth. ... Kentucky will remain forever a poor state if we continue to neglect the education of our citizens. ... Kentucky will become a greater state when it maintains a greater University."

Only Arkansas has a smaller percentage of college graduates, the president stated.

Explains Need
In explaining why more money is needed for research, Dr. Donovan mentioned the "astounding" benefits to Kentucky from the University's research in the past 25 years.

"In one year the additional income to our people as the result of research in the tobacco laboratory and the development of hybrid corn amounts to at least three times as much as the people have invested in the University during the quarter of a century just past."

He guaranteed a ten dollar return on every dollar invested for research at the University.

Vets Must Get Record Cards

Veterans returning to the University for the Winter quarter will be required to pick up their record cards in Memorial Hall one hour prior to regular registration, veterans officials said.

UK Professors To Attend Conventions During Holidays

A number of University faculty members are planning to attend meetings and conventions in their respective fields during the Christmas holidays.

Dr. Niel Plummer, Prof. Victor R. Portmann and Dr. William M. Moore of the Department of Journalism will attend the annual meeting of the American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism and the American Association of Teachers of Journalism in Philadelphia Dec. 29-31.

Prof. Portmann will lead a discussion on Promotion Under Business Management of the Course Content and Teaching Procedures round table. Dr. Moore will be in charge of a discussion on the Postwar Challenge of Freedom of the Press.

Language Groups To Meet
The College of Commerce will be represented at the American Economic Association in Chicago by Dr. Ralph R. Pickett, professor of economics.

Several persons from different departments are planning to attend the Modern Languages Association meeting in Detroit. They include Dr. Adolph E. Bigge and Dr. Anna F. Odor of the German Department; Dr. George K. Brady, Dr. W. S. Ward, and Dr. Arthur L. Cooke of the English Department, and Dr. Hobart

Martha Evans

Positions Effective Until Expiration Of Spring Term

Jack Sorrelle was appointed editor of the Kernel at a meeting of the Board of Student Publications this week. Sorrelle, a journalism student from Burlington, replaces Martha Yates who will be graduated at the end of this quarter.

Martha Evans was chosen managing editor and Haskell Short was selected to continue as news editor. O. C. Halyard who was appointed sports editor last spring will continue in that position.

All the appointments are effective until the end of the spring quarter. Sorrelle has served as managing editor since last June and was assistant managing editor before that time. He is a member of the Student Government Association.

Was News Editor
Miss Evans was news editor during the summer quarter. A journalism senior from Wilmore, she is a member of Theta Sigma Phi woman's journalism honorary, and Chi Delta Phi, women's literary honorary.

Towles; vice-president, Bill Brown; secretary, Tommy Poe; treasurer, Joe Hall; corresponding secretary, Joe Cocuzzi; alumni secretary, William Odor; historian, Joe Craig; sergeant-at-arms, Paul Cunningham; and chaplain, Gene Hoggwood.

Mr. C. A. Povolovich is the senior faculty adviser of the fraternity, and C. G. Wheelodon and Calvin Hall were selected as scouting advisers.

Program Installed By SGA To Study Student Problems

A new program by which the Student Government will study student problems to learn of student problems and methods of solving them is being launched by SGA.

The program entails periodic visits by SGA representatives to each of the dormitories where representatives will answer questions and receive suggestions on improving campus conditions.

The first of these meetings was held Tuesday in Patterson, Boyd, and Jewell halls. SGA officers hope these meetings will better conditions for the students at the University and make SGA a better organization.

In a letter addressed to the students, Claude Sprows, president of SGA, said, "The only way in which we can operate effectively is to receive your ideas and suggestions."

German Club Gives Christmas Party

In keeping with German tradition, the German Club commemorated the coming of St. Nicholas at a Christmas party in Miller hall Thursday night.

Dr. John H. Ubben, disguised as St. Nicholas, distributed nuts and fruit to guests and members of the club. Dr. William Odor, historian, Professor of German, said that according to European custom, St. Nicholas visits the children on Dec. 6 and the Christ child brings gifts on the Dec. 25.

Program Outlined
A number of persons took part in the party. Dr. A. E. Bigge read the Christmas story from the German Bible. Dr. Anna Odor told the legend of the German St. Nicholas. Judy Horne gave the history of the Christmas tree. Donald Spillman gave the origin of "Silent Night," and Leonard Goldstein and Joe Fitch sang a duet, "Ach du Lieber Augustin."

Kentucky Triumphs 24-14 In Great Lakes Bowl Game

By Tom Diskin

Playing one of their best games of the season, Kentucky faced a big and rugged Villanova eleven, 24-14, in Cleveland's massive Municipal Stadium last Saturday in the initial Great Lakes Bowl game.

A disappointing crowd of only 14,500 watched the UK Wildcats capture their eighth win of the year as they defeated Villanova, which is the best record a Blue and White gridiron team has had since 1909, when the Cats won nine and lost only to North Carolina A & M, 15-6.

The line play in the bowl game bordered on viciousness, especially by the smaller, but very rough Kentucky forward wall. Outstanding in the first line of defense for the big Blue were Wash Smith, Frank Smotherman, Charlie Brown, Leo Yarusis, Jay Rhodemyre, Harry Ullinski, Charlie Bentley and Ben Zarakian.

In the UK backfield, George Blanda's passing and kicking was excellent. He hit 11 receivers in 21 attempts. Two sophomore halfbacks—James Howe and Bill Boller—played their best games of the season. Boller, who scored two touchdowns on brilliant runs, also completed three passes in four tries. Howe tailed the other UK touchdown on a splendid 29-yard sprint.

Wildcat Cagers Headed East For Two Holiday Contests

While UK students are enjoying the Christmas vacation, the Wildcats basketball team will be kept busy trying to keep their season slate clean. Starting next Wednesday night, Kentucky will play six games over the vacation and only one of them can really be called a "breather"—the Western Ontario contest.

On Dec. 17, UK meets Xavier University here; Dec. 20, the Cats go to Philadelphia to play Temple; Dec. 23, a game with St. John's in Madison Square Garden; Jan. 2, Creighton comes to Louisville; Jan. 3, Western Ontario invades Alumni gym; then on Jan. 5, Miami (Ohio) University will be host of the busy Kentuckians.

Taking the games in the order they are to be played, we hit Xavier first. The Musketeers are much stronger than last year.

The Queen City institution defeated Franklin College, 70-53, in their opener and then sprung an upset by losing out, Purdue, 44-43, on the Badger's home court last week end. X is led by Howie Schueler, who flipped in 23 markers in the initial game; and two former UK cagers—Malcolm McMullen and Dick Boxwell. The latter, who was on the Kentucky "B" team for a while last year, tossed in the deciding basket in the Purdue game in the final seconds of the skirmish. McMullen, X's first-string center, saw action in a few games early last season before leaving Lexington for Xavier. He scored 10 tallies against Purdue; Boxwell hit for 11 to take high scoring honors that night. Both of these cagers will play their heart out next Wednesday against their former teammates—that you can count on.

Temple and St. John's come next and they both are generally two of the East's outstanding quintets. St. John's lost their opening game to Denver by two points recently, 54-52, but will improve in future games and may be "top" when UK invades the Big Town. Creighton, like DePaul and Xavier, is a Catholic school that takes its basketball very seriously. The last meeting between UK and Creighton (in 1940) found the Omaha, Neb., netters upsetting the Puppets, 45-54. Coach Rupp hasn't forgot that game and will be very glad to get past this team without a loss.

Western Ontario played here twice in Alumni gym to start the 1946-47 cage season and were trimmed in the usual Kentucky style. The Canadians lost the initial game, 51-42, and the next night were taken, 71-26, as UK really found the range. This coming contest on Jan. 3 will be another lopsided event, barring any miracles.

—Ginn, Smotherman, Ferrell, Leon, McDermott, guards—Porter, Preston, Brown, Jones, Ullinski; center—Oduvak; backs—Phelps, Jamerson, Truman, Bobb, Klein, Villanova—Ends—Pinkelstein, Schleicher, Griffith, Kane, Sheahan; tackles—Lilienthal, Riley, guards—Scarcelli, Lanigan, Limman; centers—Kumar, Witsch, backs—Romanik, Gordon, Pasquariello, Zeller, Schroeder, Tuskie, McCarthy, Rogers, Polidor.

The final hardwood game of the holidays will be a game with the dangerous Miami Redskins, in Oxford, Ohio. Last season, UK beat Miami, 62-49, here in Lexington in one of the roughest games of the season for the Cats. Miami kept pace with the big Blue for half the contest, but finally the Lexington Lynxmen got hot and gradually pulled away. Now this year's game will be played in Oxford, Ohio, which gives the Buckeyes a distinct advantage and the Miami quintet, coached by Blue Foster, will be "laying" for the powerful UK basketballers in hopes of upsetting the famous felines from the Bluegrass and winning national recognition. Miami is led by center Bob Brown and guard Bob Schnackleberger—two top-flight cagers.

UofL Alums To Give Dance After Game

The University of Louisville alumni will entertain with a dance after the Kentucky-Creighton game in Louisville, January 2, Dorothy Jackson, secretary of the Louisville alumni chapter, announced this week.

The dance will be held in the Terrace Room of the Kentucky hotel. Admission will be $2.50 per person. Alumni, students, and friends of the University are invited to attend.

Further information concerning tickets may be obtained from Miss Helen King, alumni secretary at the alumni office in the SUB.

Kenny Rollins Named To Captain Cagers

Kenny Rollins, hailed for his steady influence over the team when under fire, this week became the second Wildcat cager in history, and the first during the Rupp reign to captain the Kentucky cagers through two consecutive seasons.

An All-SEC cager last year, the 24-year-old Wickliffe, Kentucky, senior, was the third highest scorer for the season with 310 points. His magnificently consistent play was overshadowed last year for the most part, but on a team boasting four All-Americans and a roster of All-Conference players, he is expected to definitely come in for his share of attention, and truly be a "man among men."

The U. S. Air Force offers you

$336 a month one year after graduation

That's what you can earn after completing one year of pilot training and winning your wings in the Air Force.

It is a good deal from the start. While you're an Aviation Cadet you draw $75 per month, plus food, quarters, uniforms, medical and dental care. After successfully finishing the course, you are commissioned a Second Lieutenant, Air Force Reserve, and assigned to active duty with the Air Force at $336 a month (including flight pay), with excellent chances for further increases as promotions come through.

In addition, you get an extra $500 for each year of active duty, and will be given a chance to compete for a commission in the Regular Air Force if you are interested in a service career.

This opportunity, which cannot be duplicated anywhere else at any price, equips men for well-paid, responsible positions throughout the aviation industry, at high pay from the beginning. It is open to you if you're single, between 20 and 26½ years old, and have completed at least one-half the requirements for a degree from an accredited college or university (or pass an examination measuring the equivalent). Cat Clippings

by Tom Diskin

The University of Kentucky's 92-piece marching band put on a fine performance at the Great Lakes bowl game. They demonstrated to the Yankees at the stadium why they are called "The Best Band in Dixie".

The game was played in Municipal Stadium, home of the Cleveland Indians baseball team, and it has a seating capacity of 85,000. Villanova will probably give their 1948 opponents a rough time. They lose only four seniors—all substitutes next year. All the other players on the squad are sophomores and juniors. No freshman were carried on the varsity this season by Villanova.

The Gridiron at Municipal Stadium extends from behind the pitcher's mound out to deep center field. When Blanda booted the first extra point, he kicked the pigskin over the center field barrier into some youngsters. After a mad scramble for the ball one kid grabbed it and, instead of returning the ball to the officials, made a fast end run through the exits and out of the park.

The Kentucky Wildcats were the only team this season to score more than 19 points against Villanova, who held powerful Army to a 13-0 score.

The most promising freshman gridder on the Kentucky team, in our humble opinion, are Tackle Bob Gain, Left Halfback Shorty Jamer, Right Halfback Dick Martin, and Left End Ben Zaranka. Other players that showed up well in various games were John Chumley, Clayton Webb, Odean Thomas, Roy Ford and Bob Wodtke. Zaranka seemed to get better with each passing contest, playing a fine game, especially on defense, against Villanova six days ago. Freshmen tackles, with as much promise as Bob "No" Gain, are as scarce as snowflakes in Florida.

Southeastern Conference teams are a hard bunch to beat when playing.

Track Team To Work Out On Saturdays

By Dudley Saunders

Track aspirants will be taught fundamentals of the cinder-sport every Saturday afternoon through-out the winter, whenever the gym can be obtained, according to Coach Don Cash Seaton. These informal classes are open not only to those interested in trying out for the track squad, but also for anyone interested in learning.

Starting tomorrow afternoon, Coach Seaton will work with hurdlers at 1:30 and field and weight men at 3:30 every Saturday until further notice.

Among those who have signed up for the hurdles and field events are several Wildcat gridder including George Blanda, Bill Boller, and John Chumley, all of whom will specialize in field events. Chumley, one of Kentucky's outstanding freshman gridder of the past season, and Jim Weber, leading scorer for the Cinder-Cats last spring, are also signed up for the hurdles.

Others who have already signed up for field events are Max Ankney, Paul Gunsten, Mickey Regan, and Bob Drury.

Besides Chumley and Weber, several other hopefuls have already signed up for the hurdles, including C. B. Basler, Tony Dallas, John Gerner, John Harrison, Dennis Rice, and Guy Weeks. Weber is out of school this quarter, but plans to return here next quarter.

Earlier this year, Coach Seaton stated that if enough freshmen turn out, the University may sponsor a freshman track team next spring. This will give freshmen ample opportunity to gain experience before they become eligible for the varsity squad when they are sophomores. Only those freshmen who enrolled before July 1 will be eligible for varsity competition next spring, according to existing SEC rules.

Seaton repeated the fact that Coach Bryant has agreed to excuse any man from spring football practice who is on the track team.

DePaul Quintet Succumbs To Wildcat Attack, 74-50

By O. C. Halyard

Working with the perfection and rhythm that a group of all-stars should have, the Kentucky Wildcats overwhelmed a classy DePaul outfit 74-50 before nearly 7,400 fans in the Jefferson County Armory Wednesday night.

The Blue Demons represented the first big test to loom on the Wildcats' schedule in this still young cage season, and the Cats took them in stride just as they had done others to mark up their fourth victory and maintain better than a 75 point per game average.

Kentucky played superior ball until within seven minutes of the final whistle, when the steady stream of substitutes trotting back and forth from the Blue and White bench bogged down the attack. At that point in the game the Cats held a double score advantage of 70-35, and in the closing portion of the tilt, DePaul tallied 15 points while Al Cummins and "Wah Wah" Jones were able to rack in four points between themselves, three of those going to the Harlan junior.

Beard Steals Show

Again it was All-American Ralph Beard who stole the show. The small Kentucky guard, playing before a home crowd and on a floor more familiar to him than any other cage in the game, was slow to start. The game was ten minutes into the first half when the ball-hawk stole the spheroid and went down the floor for a clear lay-shot. For the remainder of the initial half and about half of the second period, Beard was all over the floor and amassed a total of 17 points to become high ing on their home field. During the past season, for instance, SEC eleven lost a total of only 13 games in the 51 played on the home grid-irons. Tulane was high with three losses, while Ole Miss, Georgia Tech, Auburn and Alabama had unmarred records.

Another interesting bit of statistics is the fact that Kentucky had one of the best defensive teams in the SEC (or the Big 12). Our Wildcats and Georgia Tech were the only teams that did not have more than two touchdowns scored against them in ANY game of the season. The Engineers gave up 14 points twice, as did UK. Bama and Navy tallied two touchdowns and extra points against Tech; Ole Miss and Villanova both scored 14 against Kentucky.

Tennessee's outstanding end, Jim Powell, of Miami, Fla., will captain the 1948 Volunteers. Bob Lund, wing-back, and Al Russas, an end, were named co-candidates for alternate captain. Knoxville sportswriters are high on Powell, saying that he "has established himself as one of the scorer for the night before taking to the bench.

Cliff Barker, tricky ball handling forward, did more than some fancy flipping of the ball for the Louisville crowd, as he started early on a scoring spree that gave him 14 points for the night, and second highest scoring honors. Barker's total for the one game surpassed his previous over-all total of 13 for the first four games.

Mikan Held Down

The Blue Demons' highly tutored center, Ed Mikan, second of DePaul's great Mikan clan, was held to a mere four points for his night's work, while Kentucky's All-American center, Alex Groza, dropped through 12. Groza had a total of 393 points for 37 games last season, and Mikan collected 392 in 25 battles.

Another of the brighter stars shining for Kentucky was Captain Kenny Rollins. Although Rollins got but two points, his defensive work at holding Ed "Whitey" Kachan drew the praise for the night. Kachan, who was a big factor in the Demons' upset 53-47 victory over Kentucky in Chicago last season broke through for only a few tries at the basket and made only four points before fouling out in the second half.

DePaul lost the services of another starter before the game finished when Leddy was whistled off the floor.

The balance of the Kentucky scoring went to Line with ten points, Holland, eight, Barnstable, six, Jones, three, Rollins, two, and one each for Parkinson and Cummins.

all-time great ends of the University of Tennessee.

Incidentally, the Vols' basketball team will be stronger than many expect. Paul Walther, UT's All-American cage from Covington, Ky., evidently changed his mind about transferring from the "hill" and is back on the team. He scored 20 points in the opening game against Lincoln Memorial. Other standouts on the squad are Marshall Hawkins, a converted forward, and Art Burris, who has been moved from the forward slot to center.

Cats Win 72-18, 71-22

The University of Tulsa Golden Hurricanes were reduced to dull drizzles after two damp defeats were handed them by the Kentucky Wildcats with the scores of 72-18 Friday night and 71-22 Saturday night.

All-America center Alex Groza bagged 11 points in 9½ minutes of play Friday and was left in long enough to gather 15 points the following night, to become high point man for both contests.

Bearcats Next "Santa" McCubbin To Give UK Opponent

By Don E. Towles

The powerful Kentucky Wildcat cagers will move into their sixth game of the season tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Cincinnati when they meet the Cincinnati cagers.

The Wildcats face the Bearcats of Cincy with an undefeated record. They have overpowered by tremendous scores Indiana Central, 80 to 41, and later repeated the score to whip Fort Knox. Last week, the Ruppmen easily overcame what opposition Tulsa was able to offer by scores of 72-18 and 71-22.

The Wildcats rolled over the opposition of DePaul at the Armory Wednesday night by a score of 74-50.

In the first four games it was Alex Groza who had more points than any of his teammates. Groza has piled up 52 points while diminutive Ralph Beard is in second place with 44 points.

Through the first four contests, the Cats have hit 31.2 per cent of their shots while the opposition has hit only 22.6 per cent.

The Cincinnati aggregation has not shown a great deal of promise this season however, after the DePaul game, the Kentucky team could not be expected to be in the best of shape.

Although, if the Rupp-coached Kentuckians play with the same spirit and speed that they have in the past five games, the Cincinnati team should fall with ease to the Cats.

"Santa" McCubbin To Give Trophies To Good I-M Boys

By Allen Terhune

With the yuletide season approaching by leaps and bounds, Bill "St. Nick" McCubbin, intramural director, is about to give out with three Christmas presents in the form of athletic trophies.

On the list for the biggest trophy is the winner of the volleyball elimination tournament which was determined Thursday night at which time both the semi-finals and finals were played in alumni gymnasium.

Press time found Delta Chis, Sigma Nus, Sigma Chis and Phi Sigs in line for the semis and one of the four will have a new fraternity moment to place under their Christmas tree during the holidays.

Another shiny gold statue will go to the winner of the ping pong singles and still another is in line for the doubles champions.

Delta Chi won their way to the semi-finals of the volleyball deal by downing a highly touted SAE outfit and the Sigma Nus gained a berth by overcoming the Phi Taus. Sigma Chi ousted the Kappa Sigs while the Phi Sigs rated over the Deltas.

Colonel Snoozel's prognostications suggest that the volleyball finals may be similar to the football finals which saw the Sigma Chis pitted against the Delta Chis.

Ping Pong

In the ping pong department, the tourney has advanced to the fifth round with the semi-finals already under way partially. Since over 100 entries signed up for the ping pong singles, the play offs may be delayed. However, if everything goes

Y Freshman Club And Pitkin Club To Give Party

The Freshman club of the YM-YWCA and the Pitkin club will sponsor a Christmas party for 68 children at Lincoln school in Lexington. The party is being given for those in the kindergarten and first grades.

The Christmas party is an annual affair which has been carried on for several years. Each child is given a present, candy, and fruit by a Santa Claus at the party.

Tuesday night at the regular Freshman club meeting 30 pounds of hard candy was sacked for the children and each present was wrapped individually.

Money for the party was contributed by the students at basketball games, and the contributions, which amounted to $102.30, were put into a fund for the Lincoln school children.

Campus Kids Are Issued Certificates

Small certificates, edged in pink for girls, blue for boys, and arranged much like a diploma, will be presented to the "campus children" born of University veterans.

President H. L. Donovan announced that vet's children will receive the certificates entitling them "to all rights and privileges of a junior citizen of the campus of the University." A further provision states "that when the bearer is prepared for college the officials of the University are charged to see that the student receives the consideration due a child born on the campus."

Convocation Wanted

Present plans call for mailing the certificates with children's pictures to the four corners to their parents but a few Cooperstown parents feel that the presentation should be made at a special convocation or program arranged for parents and children.

Dodge Addresses Engineering Convo of state welfare institutions has far exceeded money allotted for the University's development, the president said in listing expenditures on Kentucky's penal and mental institutions.

Discussing the need for salary raises for the faculty, Dr. Donovan told of the University's loss of many prominent professors to other schools, in the South as well as the North.

"Kentucky wants a University that will educate its sons and daughters for positions of leadership in the professions and other vocations... that will carry on many forms of adult education... that will engage in fundamental research for new truths... that can interpret the results of its research... to the people... that will help its citizens in improving many public services... that will promote the general culture of the citizens," Dr. Donovan said in closing.

Vets To Receive Full Subsistence

There will be no reduction in subsistence payments for student veterans who are out of school during the holiday recess, Veterans Administration officials said today.

Veterans will continue to receive the full subsistence allowance to which they are entitled. The time they are on holiday vacation will be deducted from their period of eligibility.

VA officials added there was no provision in the law that permits VA to make loans or advance subsistence payments to student veterans.

Two UK Employees To Be Honored

Two veteran employees of the University who soon will be granted a change of work status, will be honored at a testimonial dinner under the sponsorship of the Department of Business Management and Control on Dec. 16, Frank D. Peterson, comptroller, has announced.

The staff members, both of whom currently hold positions in divisions of the University Business office, are Miss Minnie Phiergo, order clerk in the purchasing division, and L. H. McCain, assistant comptroller. Miss Phiergo has been associated with the University for 30 years while Mr. McCain is a veteran of 29 years service.

Morrow Essay Wins Second Place Honor

Glenn D. Morrow, research associate in the University of Kentucky Bureau of Business Research, has been named a recipient of second place honors in a nation-wide essay contest on public finance sponsored by the National Tax Association, James W. Martin, director of the UK bureau and retiring president of N.T.A., announced.

The essay contest was established one year ago and prizes of $250 for first place, $150 for second place, and $100 for third place were offered.

Morrow, a native of Madisonville who taught in the public schools of Kentucky prior to joining the University staff in 1941, wrote the second prize winning essay on the subject, "Operation of the Kentucky

University Choristers To Present Program Of Carols Sunday

The annual Christmas carol program featuring the University Choristers under the direction of Miss Mildred Lewis, will be presented by the Music Department Sunday afternoon and evening at 4 and 8 o'clock in Memorial Hall. It was announced by Dr. Alexander Capurso, head of the music department.

Open to the public as a cultural service of the University to the community, the pre-holiday recitals are the fourth in a series of Sunday afternoon musicales being presented by the music department during the Fall and Winter seasons. The next musicale will be on Jan. 25 with Miss Frances Yeend, soprano, as guest artist.

Carols of a sacred and secular nature from various countries will be sung as a part of the program, which will be highlighted by mass singing of traditional Christmas hymns by the audience. John Jacob Niles' Appalachian song, "I Wonder As I Wander," is to be featured by the women's group.

The University Choristers has in its personnel a mixed group of students, faculty, and staff members, and several townspeople.

Iola Cullis, organist, of the Music Department, will serve as accompanist and soloist. Miss Lewis, assistant professor of music, will direct the colorful presentation.

The complete program will be broadcast by Radio Station WKIX.

UK Coed Is National 4-H Cover Girl

By Paul Brookshire

And for the benefit of those who dislike the new styles in women's clothes, it might be consoling to know she won a national beauty contest without benefit of the "new look" fashions.

Mary Jo Ridley, a freshman in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, approves of the "new look" but she won her contest in an evening dress she designed before the newfangled fashions came along.

Her picture will appear on the cover of the March issue of Modern Miss, a magazine published by a pattern agency.

Miss Ridley was recently chosen as National 4-H Club Cover-Girl in Chicago where she won a style revue in a contest with girls from 46 other states.

Blonde, 18-year-old Mary Jo, whose home is in Beaver Dam, won with a gown of light blue balloon cloth with fitted jacket with full sleeves and a wasp waist and full skirt. She made the dress without a pattern.

Wins State Revue
After winning the state style revue for 4-H clubs, Miss Ridley went on to Chicago where she received, as first prize winner, a war bond, a bouquet of orchids, and a visit to a number of famous Chicago places.

Included in the tour of Chicago was a trip to Marshall Field's department store where a Life magazine photographer made a picture of her modelling a new suit.

Mary Jo says she hasn't decided on a career, but here's a tip for the boys. She can cook and sew. And she doesn't believe in long skirts to "extreme."

Truth of the matter is, Mary Jo doesn't need the "new look" to get ahead. She's pretty enough for the cover of anybody's magazine.

When asked what they did with their spare time, Bert demanded, "What spare time? If you mean the weekends, I go home."

"I just lay in the sack," Hal yawned lazily.

Never, never do they discuss girls when they're off duty—at east they claim they don't.

Shock?

By this time Pat Hall inmates are used to seeing Bert and Hal around. At their first appearance Phyllis Cilver, a typical Pat hall resident, gasped. "It was a terrible shock to me tearing down to Chat 'N' Nibble for a candy bar and find men. Golly!"

"Patterson Hall has everything," Mary Osborne added.

Except for Bert's complaint that the Oxydol for the dishes gives him disphen hands, Bert and Hal figure that they're holding down the best job at UK.

They'll probably be at Pat a long time, girls, and if you just keep trying maybe you, too, will stumble on their room by mistake.

UK Man To Attend Veterans Conference In Nation's Capital

Clayton Roland will attend the Students Veterans Conference in Washington next week during which student veterans will ask Congress to increase subsistence allowances for student veterans.

Clubs throughout the state are financing a trip being made by Roland and one other delegate as representatives of the Kentucky Association of Student Veterans Clubs.

Lobby Is Purpose
Veterans club officials said the purpose of the delegates going to Washington is "lobbying in favor of increased subsistence for student veterans."

Donations Needed
Part of Roland's expenses are being paid by the local club's treasury, but because of insufficient funds in the treasury, donations are being asked from veterans here.

Donations may be left at the club's office, located in the administration building, which is open during the morning.

ALUMNI NEWS

THEN and NOW

PERSONALITIES

Mrs. Richard Wellington (Minerva Collins), 51, formerly of Hindman, who is now living in Buena Vista, Geneva, N. Y., was a visitor on the campus last week.

Mrs. Wellington was the first woman to receive a degree in agriculture from the University, and following her graduation went into that field, first at the University of Minnesota and then at the New York Agricultural Experiment Station at Geneva.

Her husband, who accompanied her to the campus, is head of the College of Pomology at the New York Experiment Station.

Kyle Whitehead, 26, and Melvin Norsworthy, former student, both of Harlan, were on the campus this week, conferring with President H. L. Donovan, and making plans for the reorganization of the alumni of Harlan county.

Cleveland alumni really got their fill of thrills on Saturday, Dec. 6, when Kentucky defeated Villanova 24 to 14 in the Wildcat's first bowl appearance in the Cleveland stadium.

More than 100 Kentuckians from Cleveland and followers of the team from home, gathered in the Hotel Hollenden, following the game, for an open house and dinner, at which time representatives of the Cleveland chapter of the Knights of Columbus, sponsors of the game, presented the handsome trophy to President H. L. Donovan. A detailed story of the Cleveland alumni meeting will be carried in the February issue of the Kentucky Alumnus.

Alumni glimpsed at the Bowl game in Cleveland were: Tom Reynolds, Augusta; Bob Sherman, Layman Mays, Wayman Thomason, Gaston McKee, Pat Morris, Bob McDowell, Jerry Mercer, all of Cleveland; Red Symptom, Wierton, W. Va.; Rogers Clay, now of Cleveland; Mrs. Joshua Barnes, Jr. (Alice Codell), Winchester; Ray Bryant, Cleveland; Gene Bryant, Lexington; to name just a few.

Marshall Barnes, 24, and Mrs. Barnes, Beaver Dam; Herndon Evans, 21, and Mrs. Evans (Mary Elizabeth Downing), Pineville; and Lee McClain, 19, Bardonia, were in Lexington Monday, en route to Frankfort to attend the inauguration of Earle C. Clements, Ex. 20, as Governor of Kentucky.

The Louisville alumni of the University are planning a dance in the Terrace room of the Kentucky hotel, Jan. 2, following the Kentucky-Creighton University basketball game which will be played that night at the Louisville armory.

Admission will be $2.50 per person, and all students, alumni and friends of the University are cordially invited.

Barnhart Sculpture On Display In Cincy

A piece of sculpture, carved by Prof. Raymond Barnhart of the Art department, has been accepted for showing at the current Annual Cincinnati and Vicinity Art Exhibition in the Cincinnati Art Museum, the artist has been informed.

The Cincinnati show represents selected works of outstanding artists in Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky. It is scheduled to continue through Dec. 15.

Jim: "Yep, the engagement's off—she won't marry me."

Tim: "Smatter? Didn't you inform her about your wealthy uncle?"

Jim: "Did so; now she's my aunt."

Marketing Class Visits Cincinnati

Members of the Markets and Rural Finance class in the College of Commerce recently were guests of the Kroger company in Cincinnati where they visited a number of Kroger installations to obtain first hand knowledge of marketing operations.

Dr. A. J. Brown, head of the marketing department, and Perry Sumner, accompanied the students. Dr. Brown said it was planned to make the trip a quarterly affair.

VA Plans To Speed Allowance Payments

In an effort to speed payment of subsistence allowances to veterans, the Veterans Administration will send representatives to the University each month to make direct checkups with the students.

The program is designed to aid those veterans who do not receive their subsistence checks on time by providing priority handling of each such case to expedite payment.

During the second week of each month, starting in December, a VA representative will be here to interview veterans who are not receiving subsistence checks.

In each case where payments are overdue, the VA representative will record the necessary identifying information and relay it immediately to the regional office handling the veteran's accounts. All regional office personnel involved in clearing the case will give priority to the claim until the veteran receives his check.

HOW IT CAN "RAIN" INSIDE YOUR WATCH

Scientists explain why millions of mainsprings break, and one kind doesn't

"Ping" goes the mainspring! It happens in so many watches! Rust is the reason. High humidity with a sudden drop in temperature can cause condensation of a droplet of moisture inside the case... like a miniature rainstorm. A tiny pin point of rust begins on the mainspring. And there, microscopes show, is where the spring breaks.

The finest steel mainspring ever made will rust. But now comes Elgin's miracle mainspring: DuraPower. Made from an entirely new alloy, it will not rust. And it retains its original resiliency indefinitely, gives a steady flow of power for lasting accuracy.

Hailed as the most important watch-making development in over 200 years, Elgin's DuraPower Mainspring eliminates 99% of repairs due to carbon steel mainspring failures. Only Elgin Watches including Lord and Lady Elgins and Elgin Deluxe have the exclusive DuraPower Mainspring, and at no extra cost. Also available at repair shops for replacement in many previous Elgin models. Look for the symbol "dp" on the dial.

Letters To The Editor

Much To Say
Editor, the Kernel:

I am a person with many axes, and I intend to grind a few in this letter.

In a recent issue of the Kernel, in two of the letters to the editor, I noticed a plethora of exclamation marks. Roger Donaldson reports that 25% of the students have never heard of SGA, and "that most of the others have only a vague idea of what SGA is!" New Reader, in inserting a parenthesis says, "(No typographical error!!)". Now in both of these instances, either a single exclamation point would have been sufficient, or else the writer could have used a period.

James Thurber, in the "Saturday Review of Literature" for January 30, 1937, has this to say in reviewing Dale Carnegie's "How to Win Friends and Influence People": "... He relates that, in addressing an audience one night, he told them of how he had once, out of sheer kindness, said to a postoffice clerk, 'I certainly wish I had your head of hair.' One of Mr. Carnegie's listeners, who had apparently come to learn about how to influence people, how to get what you're after, asked, naturally enough, it seems to me, 'What was I trying to get out of him?!' Great God, almighty!!!! Steady on, Mr. Carnegie. Remember 'Smile,' and some of your other rules, and also one of mine: exclamation points, even three in a row, do not successfully convey depth of sincerity or intensity of feeling." I have often come across instances of words and phrases becoming meaningless because of wrong usage, but I cannot see the sense in peering at our economical punctuation marks.

Because of the general disrepute in which the humanity courses are held at this University, it would be wise to note the following excerpts, and I transcribe first from the cover of the "Saturday Review of Literature," for June 9, 1945:

"A university is a place; it is a spirit: it is men of learning, a collection of books; it is the source of the teaching of the beauties of literature and the arts. It protects the traditions, honors the new and tests its value. It believes in truth, protests against error, and leads men by reason rather than by force.—Frank L. McVey.

Let the non-Arts and Sciences students come back at me with the statement that they are here to learn something which will be of practical value to them in life, I append the following, from the "New Yorker" magazine for Nov. 22, 1947:

"You read the Greeks?" I said. "But of course," he replied, slightly surprised at my amazement. And so I heard, partly from him and partly from Miss Dukas, that he reads the Greeks to Miss Maja every night for an hour or so, even if he has had a very tiring day. Empedocles, Sophocles, Aeschylus, and Thucydides receive the tribute of the most advanced and abstract scientist every night, in the calm voice of the affectionate brother who keeps his sister company.

"You know," I said, "that is great news. Young Americans, who have idea of the pure scientist worthy of the comics, should be told that Einstein reads the Greeks. All those who relish the idiotic and dangerous myth of the scientist as a kind of superman, free from all bonds of responsibility, should know this and draw their conclusions from it. Many people in our day go back to the Greeks out of sheer despair. So you too, Herr Professor, have gone back to the Greeks." "But I have never gone away from them," he said. "How can an educated person stay away from the Greeks? I have always been far more interested in them than in science."

Anyone who has read the series of articles in the "Atlantic Monthly" by Dr. Einstein should realize the truth of his last statement. It has been said very often of late that it will be the scientists who will have to reshape the world. I would amend this to include the engineers, our masters of technique.

To the materialists who say that they are not interested in helping the world, but rather would like to get ahead in the world, I need only say that an absorption of the humanities would be a definite cultural achievement. Perhaps if this leads any pragmatic readers to a study of the humanities, they may lose that "Me only" — "I'm number one" attitude that is so very wrong in our world today.

Remember — we are all here in this world together. There is simply no sense in adopting an attitude of greed. Help the other fellow. Be kind to dumb animals. Woodman spare that tree. And all the other aphorisms that pass so glibly among us. Of course I don't mean you, but perhaps you might help that fellow looking over your shoulder to see the light. ...

E. McDONNELL

(Typesetter ad libbing: The above writer complains bitterly in paragraph 10 about typographical errors, however, with FOUR periods he closes his letter!!!!)

Makes Suggestion
Editor, the Kernel:

As campus representative for two of our regular advertisers, I feel that I must agree with others who are bemoaning the poor circulation of the Kernel.

People that gripe without any idea of alleviating the prevailing situation have been numerous.

May I suggest that a stack of Kernels be made available at the information desk in the hall at the Student Union. I also believe at least a dozen copies of each issue should be sent to each fraternity house, sorority house, and a generous proportion to other residence halls.

Unless every advantage possible is made to circulate the paper among students, why should local and national advertisers continue their active support of the paper?

JOHN G. IRVIN
Editor's Note: Miss Bean, of the Post-office declares there is plenty of space for those who want boxes in which to get Kernels.

Implores, Mercy!
Editor, the Kernel:

Rumor has it that this week's Kernel is to be the last issue for the current quarter. I feel moved, therefore, to make this last imploring cry of 'Mercy!' to those in whose hands lies our registration day fate for the coming quarter.

I have not long been on the UK campus, but I feel that I will not be long for this world if I have to go through all that rigamarole many more times. It just seems to me, and I know that I am not entirely alone in my sentiments, that something less tedious should and could be worked out.

Take the veterans' line, for instance. Wouldn't it be possible for those little white cards to be mailed out a week or so in advance of registration day? If that line could be eliminated or at least alleviated, approximately two hours of the sweating out procedure could be put aside.

Another bottleneck arises from those cards upon which we set down our life history and signature two or three million times,—the ones for the various deans' offices, public relations, registrar, etc. A terrific majority of us fill out the same old stuff, quarter after quarter, year after year. Isn't there a possibility of making a new simple form which we may fill out, enabling the various offices to insert the necessary changes to the cards already on file? Let's give a whole bouquet of orchids to the book store crew for its efforts to meet over-crowded conditions at the opening of the fall quarter. It doesn't seem to add up, does it, when the veteran stands in line to receive his little white eligibility card sometimes for as long as three hours; but waits only fifteen minutes to have his book business, involving ten times the work of the former line, cleared up?

Here's hoping that somebody gets together with somebody, and decides that a school the size of UK just cannot register its student body using the tactics of the small-time junior college.

BUNION-SUFFER-
ING LINESTANDER

Where Is Bill?
Editor, the Kernel:

I have received the following letter from my representative, Frank Chelf, and feel that the student body would like to be familiar with the material contained herein:

"I have received a number of letters concerning H.R. 4212, a bill providing for an increase in subsistence allowances for World War II veterans pursuing institutional training to $75 per month, if without a dependent, or $105 per month if he has one dependent, or $120 per month if he has more than one dependent."

"I am writing you concerning this bill so that you may inform the Veterans Organizations there on the campus of the University of Kentucky regarding its status. This bill is now on the House calendar and it is certainly hoped that some action will be obtained in the near future.

"With the rise in living costs, the purchasing power of the dollar has been so curtailed that I can readily understand how difficult it has become for many veterans to remain in school. You may count upon my full and complete support in getting H.R. 4212 passed and enacted into law."

"With kind regards I am
Frank L. Chelf, 4th District Ky.
House of Representatives
I would appreciate the Kernel's running Mr. Chelf's statement."

This is easy as falling off a log. A small log, that is. Just send us a caption for this cartoon. The best line gets $5. Or you can send in cartoon ideas of your own. For cartoon ideas we buy, we pay $10 apiece . . . $15 if you draw them.

HE-SHE GAGS

If you're a He, and know a She—or vice versa—this should be your meat. Here's your chance to strike a blow for the home team in the battle between the sexes—and maybe win three bucks besides!

He Changi: I hear that Mhongo has left his wife.
She Changi: Really? Why?
He Changi: He says that every time she drinks a Pepsi, she smacks her lips, and he can't stand the clatter.

He: Why do you call my date "Pepsi," when her name is Betty?
She: Oh, we all call her "Pepsi" because she goes with anything!

He: I never knew what real happiness was until I married you.
She: Darling!
He: Yes, and by then it was too late.

Three bucks apiece for each of these see print. Let your conscience be your guide.

Are you dough-shy? Get us! We give the stuff away. Folding money, too. Yes sir, Pepsi-Cola Co. pays from $1 to $15 for gags you send in and we print. Why worry about an honest living? This is easier. Just send your stuff, along with your name, address, school and class, to Easy Money Department, Box B, Pepsi-Cola Co., Long Island City, N. Y. All contributions become the property of Pepsi-Cola Co. We pay only for those we print.

There's nothing to it—as you can see from the samples below. If, by coincidence, the words "Pepsi-Cola" turn up somewhere in your gag, don't worry about it. We don't mind. (Matter of fact, we kind of like it.) So start your stuff in now—for Easy Money.

Daffy Definitions

Here's a column that must have some deep underlying significance. Darned if we know what, though. All we know is that these rate a buck each—and the daffier, the better.

Frustration—having a Pepsi-Cola and no bottle-opener.
Stork—bird with a big bill.
Professor—textbook wired for sound.

Thirst—obsolete term; dates back to pre-Pepsi-Cola era.

Auf Wiedersehen

The time has come. Today will be the last day of undergraduate college days for many of us, the editor included.

Other than the customary congratulations the Kernel extends to those who are to be graduated and thanks extended by those leaving to those who will follow them shortly, there is little to say. Sentimentality in a place such as this is superfluous. We all know what we mean.

But rather than devote space to weeping and wistful smile, there are other things we want to say.

First of all, we reiterate the importance of academic scholarship. That doesn't mean a 3 every quarter. Your grades are only a partial scale by which your knowledge is tentatively tracked. You only know what you know. You'll be responsible for it, and you shouldn't let yourself down.

Activities are important in their place, too. Everyone should have some activity, some interest. Pure academic schooling and experience is valuable, but one must look at more than one facet of a prism to divine the true beauty and value of the whole.

Petty politics and narrow nationalism should be combatted on a campus level, too. Some of us for that reason strongly recommend a second and very long look at National Student Association before consideration of defeating it.

Although it's hard (we never said that it wasn't) we feel that part-time work in a field related to one's major is a great help. Education wouldn't be complete without it, and Lexington offers many possibilities.

An activity or so, a part-time job, and a schedule of classes will keep you busy all right. But the values that emerge from such a balance are more than worth the sacrifices.

Well, we've expounded enough. Thanks for everything, and auf wiedersehen!

The Unmentionable

It usually happens in isolated cases, but lately we've seen a lot of anonymous mud-slinging letters come dribbling in to University publications. You who write those "dares" and "revealing" letters condemning heaven knows what all, puzzle us. Nothing seems to be sacred to you. If you are so disturbed about such occurrences or behaviors WHY don't you sign your names? If you request that the paper not use your name in print, we will observe your wish; however, the letters to the editor must be signed — WITH YOUR OWN NAMES.

The Kernel has received too many of these well-meaning dares lately to take it sitting down. One letter, jauned to the gunwales with libel, was signed very obviously with a false name and no address. Such cowards betray their intentions. These will be the first to say that the Kernel suppresses the news, distorts it, or refuses to publish the sensational "truths."

We say, of course, we don't print such blasphemy. Those letters are an insult to the intelligence of the staff. Do such persons think they will swallow such rumor and libel? Hadn't it occurred to them that a newspaperman must be trained to verify—never to accept rumor as fact?

If your letter does not appear in the Kernel, and we have your name, it is because there is something contained in it which would be considered by the courts as libelous. We will tell you why if we have your name. But the Kernel and all other papers will reject the unsigned who want to hide behind the petticoats of anonymity. What do you want to hide?

Students in the ninth and tenth hour classes on Tuesday and Thursday have cause to rejoice. Because of an error in making the exam schedule, it is impossible for anyone who has classes at both of those hours to take one of the exams. Pretty shrewd, no?

Kernel; the new Governor of Kentucky.

The latest fad in pinnings is to see how many times you can get pinned over a short period of time. So not to be outdone, one co-ed on campus was pinned to a Phi Delta in the spring quarter and to a Beta this summer. A classmate noticed the new pin the other day and came up with the remark: "Where's last year's pin?"

And they tell the story about the KA who has been pinned to a dozen different girls — two of them this quarter.

What do you know—no preclassification this time. Maybe the faculty has decided that it's one sure way of getting the students back from the Christmas holidays on time.

Janice Burke waited three whole weeks to see her man, Bill Mordica, who's not in school now.

Spice Of Life

By

Amy Price and Helen Dorr

There are to me, two kinds of guys
The only two that I despise:
The first I'd really like to slam—
The one who copies my exam;
The other is the dirty skunk
Who covers his and lets me flunk.

Now that the much-heralded Bowl game in Cleveland is over and the team returned victorious, those students who went are back, ready to knuckle down to term papers that are due and the exams in the offing. The Sukey special is said to have been much fun.

The main topic of conversation overheard the other night was Winston (So Fascinating) Pinnell.

Constant Twosomes: Joan Lindstrom and Jack Gutermuth; Alice Poole and Tony Walker; Barbara Akers and Marvin Talbott; Betty Buck and Charley Hesser.

We actually saw two boys flip a coin the other night for the privilege of calling Evelyn Ewing to ask her for a date. (Lucky girl—both boys were cute.)

It's in the cards and the stars that Mary Fribble and Herman Kessler will be pinned by the start of winter quarter.

It's wedding bells during Christmas for Naomi Duncan and Ben Sullivan. A Merry Christmas to you.

Congratulations to: The winning football team; the new editor, managing editor, and news editor of the

"I've smoked Chesterfield for years and find they completely Satisfy."

Question: I would like to change the beneficiary on my G.I. insurance policy without letting the old beneficiary know about it. Can I do this?

Answer: A veteran may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his G.I. insurance at any time without their knowledge or consent.

Question: I am an ex-WAC with an honorable discharge and contemplating marriage to a non-veteran. Will the marriage cause me to lose any of my rights to benefits under the G.I. bill?

Answer: No.
